First Semester Fun!

Below: Tim Castle settles with the Business Office.
Bottom right: The CSC blood drive was a success.
Right: Ken Butler and Craig Jones act in "Granpa Hangs the Holly."

Below: Mr. Sheppiard and the band work hard preparing the half-time show.

Right — Christy Miller watches the ballgame as someone sneaks up on her from behind.

Above — The back-to-school dance was the highlight of the back-to-school activities.

Dedication

The 1990 Horizons is dedicated to Richard Newton.

Dean Newton is the Academic Coordinator for the Holmes Community College District, and the Academic Dean for the Goodman Campus. He has served in this capacity since 1976.

Richard Newton, a vital part of the administration, is responsible for registration, scheduling, and seeing that classes run smoothly.

He does his job very well, and the Horizons staff would like to salute Dean Newton by dedicating the 1990 Horizons to him.

President's Page

On July 1, 1989, a new era began for Holmes Community College. Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. took over as the president of the institution.

Morgan, who came to Holmes from Itawamba Community College, has served in several capacities in various schools, beginning as a teacher at Greenville's E.E. Bass Junior High School.

Morgan envisions Holmes playing a positive part in the lives of the citizens who reside in the nine counties of the district.

Upon becoming president Morgan said, "I want people to know that we are going to continue to be positive. And to expand upon the good things going on here. I'm excited about it and pleased to be the seventh president."

Right — Alatha registers for a dorm room.

Below — Everyone enjoyed CSC's Sidewalk Cafe.

Lower right — These guys take advantage of some free time before classes begin.

Upper right — The cheerleaders were always there when the team's spirit needed a lift.

THANKS TO THE EIGHTIES

... the horrible seventies are over.

... many new inventions have come about to make our lives easier.

... we mousse our hair.

... fashion has changed. We intentionally wear ripped, patched, oversized, wrinkled clothes, and girls even wear men's underwear as outer garments.

... hours over a hot stove were replaced by the microwave.

... we have a new decade, the nineties, to do with as we please.

Below — Moving into the dorm is one of the most time-consuming processes of the first week of school.

Right — The Bulldogs dominate on this tackle.

Lower right — Carla Huggins watches the game.

Class

Service

The clubs at Holmes often reach beyond the three campuses. The events the service clubs sponsor often raise money for worthy causes or benefit the community in other ways, such as giving blood. IED and VICA both adopted stretches of highways which the clubs keep litter-free. (top left) The CSC fall blood drive was a great success. (left) The BSU/CSC basketball concessions raise money for various projects the clubs are involved in. (above) The IED club serves the community by helping keep our highways clean.

Art

Activities

Clubs prove that there's more to school than classes and books. (top left) David Rule serves students at the CSC Sidewalk Cafe. (left) The SGA's back to school dance was fun for all who attended. (above) The Inter-Club Christmas party was a new idea that proved to be a success.

Ridgeland fashion merchandising students, Leigh Ann Ray and (bottom, far left) Simmie Kees work on valentines for sale by their DECA chapter. The money is used for the various projects the group undertakes throughout the year.

On right, Ridgeland DECA students go through mock interviews, preparing their entrance into the job market. The interviews are important tools used in preparation.

All Around HCC

The omnipresent Nike logo is everywhere, including the back of a Goodman Campus student. Card players in serious thought over the next hand join the "Can's" regulars at the pool tables.

Wanda Aldy, (on right) Goodman bookstore manager, counsels prospective textbook purchaser.

All Around HCC

On the right, a Holmes student jogs to class. "Chair" potatoes abound in the dorm as evidenced by Craig Jones' pose before the tube.

All Holmes personnel lend a hand, whether to keep the chairs filled or lawn mowers moving. Holmes District President Starkey Morgan shows how it's done on the Goodman Campus.

And jeep seats forever remain filled on all the campuses. Jeeps help maintain that perfect tan, and while the Goodman co-eds below may not have received their tans in a jeep, the bronze was definitely obtainable in the tanning area behind Yazoo Hall.

End of a semester, end of a year, the same. An end, a conclusion, an academic comma, as inevitable as the changing of the seasons. The end brings celebration, the dance. The conclusion, performance noted with achievement awards.

The "sheepskin," the diploma, the piece of paper attesting to the successful conclusion of a Holmes career. Marsha Jordan checks the diplomas for their presentation at graduation ceremonies.

Fireworks painted the Homecoming sky as the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" before the kick-off of the game against East Mississippi. The Bulldog win of 27-18 was the culmination of the week's activities which included a pep rally, a dance, a football search, jersey day, fifties day, maroon day, and election of the homecoming court, who are, with their escorts: (l-r) Darren Short, Tracy Moorman, James Fairchild, Kami Thomas, Carl Sheffield, Lisa Arender, Brad Peacock, Mary Ellen Baggett, Mark Threet, Emmy Brantley, Chris Johnson, Tina Womack, John Jones, Cynthia Hutchins, Kermit Hutchins, Pamela Grant, Henry Tate, Alison Jones, Corey Yates, Kitty Davis, Anthony Cook, Ami Word, Mike Touchstone, Tracy Woods, Joseph Vance, Cami Stone, Billy Richardson, Karla Trammell, and Keith Morse.

During Homecoming, Dr. Sam Massey made the first official presentation of a medical scholarship from the fund he has established. The recipient must begin his academic career at Holmes and donate 10% of his time to public service after graduation. The first recipient is Shannon Carroll, who is number 50 on the football team. Shannon is a native of French Camp. Also during Homecoming, Dr. Massey received the Alumnus of the Year Award.

Homecoming means football. Nothing symbolizes success for a football team more than being asked to play in a bowl game. The '88 Bulldog team was recognized for their excellent performance throughout the season by their invitation to the Texas Junior College Shrine Bowl in Tyler, Texas. Many of these players returned to the Goodman Campus to support their former teammates. The homecoming court from the Grenada shows the excitement many of the students feel during homecoming week.

Vycky Aldy, from Sallis, captures the crown of Most Beautiful. Vycky is a freshman on the Goodman Campus.

Looking on as Dr. Morgan crowns Vycky Aldy Most Beautiful are Beauties Charlene Shaw and Lisa Arender.

The beauties were judged on casual wear; here they demonstrate that smiles are not in short supply at Holmes Community College. (This page, right) Most Beautiful Vycky Aldy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Aldy, plans to major in elementary education. (Below, left) Alicia King, majoring in child psychology, is the daughter of Chick and Kathy King. (Below, right) Lisa Arender, daughter of Evonne and Randell Arender, plans to become a nurse. (Facing page, top left) Emmy Brantley, daughter of Jerry and Linda Brantley, competes in dance competitions in jazz, tap, and ballet. (Top right) Honey Jones, a science major, is the daughter of Robert and Nettie Jones. (Middle left) Charlene Shaw, daughter of Charles and Janet Shaw, plans to attend Delta State University after Holmes. (Middle right) Angela Ainsworth, a marketing and finance major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman. (Bottom left) Christy Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Howe, plans to be a marketing major. (Bottom right) Kitty Davis, daughter of John and Somkit Davis, plans to major in speech pathology.

Casual Corner

The theme for the Beauty Review was "A Night in MacArthur Park." The curtain opened to a stage full of colorful balloons and contestants in multi-colored shirts parading to the song "MacArthur Park." Flower carts added color and a festive air to the casual wear competition. A fountain added a touch of elegance to the stage for the evening wear competition. (Right) Standing left to right are the eight Beauties: Honey Jones, Lisa Arender, Christy Howe, Kitty Davis, Charlene Shaw, Angela Ainsworth, Alicia King and Emmy Brantley. Seated is Most Beautiful Vycky Aldy.

Sport

Up Close and Personal

by Charles Moore

In a recent interview with the coaches of Holmes Community College some very interesting and personal reflections have been expressed. Each coach has his own style and method.

However, these truths remain self-evident: Education, hardwork, and dedication pay off.

Coach Quinby Morgan, when asked what he felt was the most important job of being a coach, said, "seeing the athletes graduate and go on to be a success in life."

"It is also the pride of watching your players achieve a goal. Coaching is like life — 'you learn as you go.'

Head basketball coach Bennie Kimble also expressed the sentiment of hard work. For him, the most important goal of being a coach is his interest in the individual player.

Kimble said, "My goal is to take a player and develop them as an athlete and as "It is rewarding to see people be a success in life, and feel that Holmes is a part of what they have become."

an individual."

Kimble places strong emphasis upon education.

"It is rewarding to see people go out into the world after sports, be a success in Life, and feel that Holmes is a part of what they have become. Other coaches interviewed have expressed similar ideas.

Assistant football coach

David Coates feels that coaching sports is very much a reflection of life.

"You don't have time to grow stale. It is always a new challenge each game night and each new year." However, let it be said that coach Ron Aldy expresses the feeling that it is a rewarding experience to work with athletes of various backgrounds, helping them to "reach his or her fullest potential as an athlete and a person."

a conviction.

And this kind of commitment is noticed by those beyond Holmes Community College. For example, Pool was so highly thought of by his peers that they elected him Mississippi Community College Coach of the year in 1988.

Some of the coaching staff have been here for years, while others are new faces to the Bulldog scene. But they all share an enthusiasm of their sport and their team.

However, one thing stands out about the Holmes coaching staff, something that goes deeper than the hard work, devotion, challenge, thrill of victory and winning or the agony of defeat. That outstanding quality is that our coaches care.

The care for the athlete as an individual — his development and contribution to the team and the game of life.

"It is always a challenge each game night and each new year."

The coaches' influence on his players often extends beyond the playing field or court and also beyond the two years spent at Holmes. Still the most obvious example of a coaches' success is the performance during the games. (Above) Occasionally even the referees get involved in the action. (Far left) A mid-air fight for the ball could produce another two points for the Bulldogs. (Left) Coach Kimble concentrates on the action-packed game, perhaps planning second quarter strategy.

Holmes' coaching staff puts a very important priority to education.

Head football coach Robert Pool and assistant football coach Hugh Shurden, an alumnus of Holmes, also stress that education and player development and hard work is essential to producing and keeping a high caliber, first rate sports program both in and out of season.

Women's basketball

Hot Dogs Apple Pie and . . .

by Michelle Roberts

When Holmes decided to make their baseball program official, they did it American-style.

They did it right. Halfway just would not do.

Sophomore David Paul makes a daring catch during spring baseball practice. The team works hard for the fifty competitions in which they will participate. Five of the teams they are up against are ranked in the national top five, making this league an especially challenging one.

The new field house and baseball field is a definite ace in attracting good players, especially those from out-of-state.

"When prospective athletes know they will have first-class facilities to play in, they automatically consider that school first," said Coach Ed Cook, head of the new baseball program.

But beyond the benefits for athletic recruiting, the new facilities leave a good impression on anyone who visits the campus.

And the field will certainly see some action this year.

This year we have a full schedule of fifty games.

Cook has loved baseball since his high school days at Blackford High School in Indiana. And certainly his enthusiasm did not diminish during his years as an athlete at Indiana State University or as a coach.

"I couldn't find anything better than to play sports and get paid for it," said Cook.

Naturally, as a coach, Cook enjoys watching the players set goals and then reach those goals.

And this team meets their goals on and off the playing field. Of special interest to Cook is the academic achievements of the freshmen during high school.

"A most important aspect of these freshmen is their academic performance, all are solid academically. All were consistently on their schools' honor rolls," said Cook.

And the attainment of goals, for anyone builds confidence, which Cook views as a key element in winning.

The field leaves a good impression on visitors to Holmes.

And, of course, having sports fans in the stands never hurts. Giving the team support shouldn't be difficult at all.

The support and attendance of students, faculty and staff, alumni and parents lifts the teams spirit. Often it is this spirit, this desire to win that can mean the difference between winning and losing.

All athletic teams need the support of the Holmes family, but because the baseball program is new, the support of this team is especially important.

"The enthusiasm from fans excites the men, providing extra incentive," said Cook.

After all, doesn't everyone need an afternoon of peanuts, popcorn, and baseball?

On and off the field the team works hard at distinguishing themselves in all that they do. Coach Cook succeeds at putting a team together that shows off what teamwork means. And working as a team, the men are able to make the plays that make the difference. The team shows that Bulldog pride inning after inning.

Many long hours on the practice field both in the fall and the spring season of JuCo baseball can pay off if the team makes it to the state playoffs. Sometimes keeping their "eyes on the prize" gives the teams the inspiration necessary for a successful season.

The Holmes baseball bulldogs try their best to make those game-winning, yet tough catches. The years of prep ball and year-round training all come into play to make this an exceptional team. Pushing forward to put homeruns on the board, the baseball team makes the school proud of them for putting forth the extra effort that makes them winners.

Cheers!

by Lisa McGill

Holmes Community College 1989-90 cheerleaders have been very successful in all that they have set out to accomplish. Through countless hours of practice along with a little help from cheerleader sponsor Gale Sheppard, the squad has continued to carry out its excellence.

From cheering on the dogs at football games to supporting both the men and ladies basketball teams, their hard work and dedication has paid off. During the football season the squad consisted of eight members — three of them male. By the time basketball season rolled around, three additional male members were added.

It was not until recently that male students took interest in the cheerleading and other formations previously unthinkable with only two men on the squad.

At the Universal Cheerleaders Association Spirit Camp at Middle Tennessee State University the cheerleaders took overall second place. Other awards were:

Chant evaluation with mic-man, Red (excellent) ribbon; Cheer evaluations, Blue (superior) ribbons, Fight Song evaluation, Blue ribbon.

Mic-man Redding and Mascot Mabry received Red and Blue ribbons. She got a trophy and gold ribbon (spirit).

squad, but the addition throughout the last few years has proved to be very beneficial. More male students allows the cheerleaders to attempt more double stunts, pyramids

The Holmes Cheerleaders risked life and limb attempting daring stunts. The tumbles and heart-stopping moments before a tossed cheerleader is caught is what makes the sport so interesting.

Not only do they help to keep up the morale and spirit of the team, but they also provide entertainment for the crowd.

Thanks to Coach Bennie Kimble and a lot of talent and hard work on the players part, Holmes' basketball team had a very successful season. Holmes was ranked in the national top 20 and won both the East Central and Mississippi Delta Tournaments. As these pictures show, we have a good team that gives us all that Bulldog pride.

Impressive players include Vernes Dotson, Jimmy Jones, William Small, Andrew Ross and Eric Gilkey. Although the team will miss the sophomores next year, the freshmen on the team seem more than capable of continuing the three year tradition of winning.

The Holmes Basketball Bulldogs really seem to have their jumpshots down pat. Whether shooting for two or three points, the dogs usually manage to sink their shots.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Teamwork is often the key to success in competitive sports. The Lady Bulldogs have more than enough teamwork and talent to keep them on top. (Right) Genice Duren, #12, goes for two despite Pearl River's best attempts to stop her.

Gale Sheppeard, Sponsor

The Horizons staff and I have worked quite hard this year to produce a book we could be proud of. Our work started back during the summer and has continued on throughout the year. We have worked late nights, weekends; and even pretty spring afternoons were spent in the darkroom. But to us, the reward of a good book is worth the sacrifice.

There have been many changes around here this year. Holmes has a new name, a new president, a new baseball program, and many other new additions. One new trend I have noticed, though, is for the worse. It is the student apathy and lack of dedication around this school. College is like life in that it is what you make of it. I encourage everyone to be more involved. I have been involved in many activities around campus and have enjoyed every one of them.

I am grateful to the dedicated few who make up the staff and our sponsor Caron Kay, without whom this book would have never been finished. Also we are thankful to Jim Williams for all of his input and support. There are many people who work behind the scenes and get little credit, but they are appreciated.

Finally, I would like to say my farewell. This is my last year at Holmes, and it is almost over. I will miss everyone and everything here. These last two years have been wonderful. I came here a 16-year-old freshman and leave here a much better person. I have tried my best to put back into this school all that I have received from it, but that is impossible; so many people have influenced and touched my life. I will always look back on these years as the best. I wish for each of you to discover all life has to offer and good luck in all that you do.

Sincerely,
Mandy Baham,
Editor
